3. Connect the display to the HDMI output on the CONVERGE Huddle.

4. Connect the CONVERGE Huddle to a PoE power injector (Midspan), or PoE Ethernet Network Switch (Endspan).
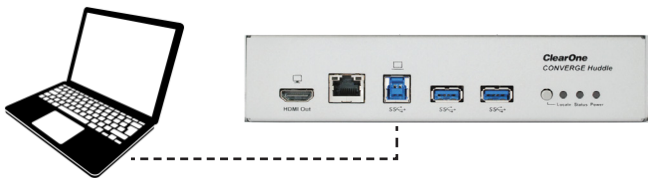

5. To cast a laptop screen onto a display via USB 3.0, install the DisplayLink driver (one time installation) onto the laptop. You can download the driver from:

   www.displaylink.com/downloads

   Note: If a Windows 10 laptop comes with the DisplayLink driver pre-installed, it does not need to be installed separately. The VERSA hub has been tested with DisplayLink driver version 8.2.1999.0.

6. Connect your laptop to the USB 3.0 Type-B input port on the CONVERGE Huddle.

Please Note: The UNITE 50 camera is powered over the connected USB cable and requires 600mA @5V at the USB port on the camera. ClearOne has tested the Unite 50 with our 10m and 30m Fiber USB 3.0 cables and as long as they are connected to USB source providing sufficient power, they will power the Unite 50 camera
